

National Centre for Integrative Medicine

Inspiring health and wellbeing

Homeopathy Training

MASTERCLASS WITH BOB BLAIR, BRISTOL, 11 JANUARY 2020

'Plants, Air, Fire & AIDS: An Exploration of New Classifications and Vital Sensations'

Plants, Air, Fire and AIDS: an exploration of new classifications and Vital Sensations. Bob will use cases to illustrate the Vital Sensations of plant families that have previously remained unlisted in Sankaran's Schema, before introducing the constituent members of each group. In the process we will see how these families fit into the evolutionary schema of the Plant Kingdom, learning about the fundamental dynamics of Air and Fire, which feature strongly in the families discussed. This evolutionary approach to the Sensation Schema picks up on ideas introduced by Yakir and Gandhi, and recently taught in Bristol by Annette Sneevliet. Further cases will be used to explore how AIDS can be meaningfully employed as a miasmatic classification within the Sensation Method schema, seeing where it fits, what its characteristics are, and which remedies are associated with it.

Visit our website for the full education programme: www.ncim.org.uk

Info / Bookings: 0117 973 8035 education@ncim.org.uk

Biography - Bob Blair LCH PCH.

Bob delights in synthesising information from a variety of sources and teachers, and in communicating different approaches to case-taking and analysis, adapting the process to suit the individuality of each patient. For the last few years his research has been particularly focused on the task of developing a Sensation-orientated systematic approach to the Plant kingdom in its entirety, as well as expanding the number of plant families and orders that have a clearly defined Vital Sensation. As well as having espoused more contemporary ways of working with homeopathy, he remains committed to its more traditional roots, being a staunch advocate for the skilled use of repertory and the importance of provings. Bob teaches at various locations and colleges in the UK, as well as further afield, and is a key driver of the World Institute of Sensation Homeopathy's current research programme, encouraging a systematic approach to initiating new provings.

Venue:

Penny Brohn UK
Chapel Pill Lane,
Pill,
Bristol,
BS20 0HH

Date: 11 January 2020 (Saturday)

Time: 10.00 – 4.30pm

Cost: £80 – includes lunch, snacks and refreshments

Payment options: via Eventbrite, or BACS
(please email education@ncim.org.uk)

Please email education@ncim.org.uk to enquire about available discounts.

NCIM is a Centre of Excellence led by a clinical team that champions a transformed model of wellness, combining conventional, lifestyle and holistic approaches to improve health and wellbeing.

NCIM is a Community Interest Company
(08529099)

www.ncim.org.uk
education@ncim.org.uk
0117 – 973 8035